

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A fluid container having relatively flat rectangular side walls and a flat circumferential end wall joining the side walls to provide a hollow interior
5 for containing a fluid material with recessed fill/pour spout and handle holes. Tie-down holes are provided to facilitate the stacking and holding down of the containers during storage or transit.